Part 1: Starting Point
Chair: James Michael, Editor, Privacy Laws & Business International Newsletter

08.45  Registration

09.00  Online sources of data protection law for the Asia-Pacific Region
       Professor Graham Greenleaf, Professor of Law, Faculty of Law, University of New South Wales, Australia; and Co-Director, Australasian Legal Information Institute (AustLII)

09.15  Welcome and introduction to how Privacy Laws & Business scans the data protection horizons in the Asia-Pacific Region
       Stewart Dresner, Chief Executive, Privacy Laws & Business

09.30  Mapping data protection in the Asia-Pacific Region: Contours and interconnections of nearly 50 countries
       Professor Graham Greenleaf, Professor of Law, Faculty of Law, University of New South Wales, Australia; and Co-Director, Australasian Legal Information Institute (AustLII)

Part 2: National Laws
Chair: Graham Greenleaf, Professor of Law, Faculty of Law, University of New South Wales, Australia

09.50  Overview of Hong Kong’s Privacy Ordinance
       Roderick Woo, Privacy Commissioner for Personal Data, Hong Kong

10.20  Questions & Answers

10.30  New Zealand’s Privacy Act – Recent developments and new challenges
       Katrine Evans, Assistant Commissioner (Legal), Office of the Privacy Commissioner, New Zealand

11.00  Questions & Answers

11.10  Break

11.30  Japan’s data protection law (Part 1: Domestic issues)
       Takayuki Kato, Assistant Director, Office of Personal Information Protection, Cabinet Office, Government of Japan

11.45  Questions & Answers

Part 3: Company Experience
Chair: Stewart Dresner, Chief Executive, Privacy Laws & Business

11.50  One BP World: The challenges of applying EU data privacy concepts in the Asia-Pacific Region
       Sandra Kelman, Global Privacy Lead, BP, New Zealand

12.10  Questions & Answers

12.20  How Adidas’s German headquarters shares Data Protection best practices with its Asia-Pacific operations
       Chris Newiger, Group Privacy Officer, Adidas, Germany

12.50  Questions & Answers

13.00  Lunch
Part 4: National Laws
Chair: Graham Greenleaf, Professor of Law, Faculty of Law, University of New South Wales, Australia

14.00 Privacy developments and the underlying structures in South Korea, China (PRC), Macao SAR, Taiwan, Malaysia, Thailand and the Philippines
Professor Graham Greenleaf, Professor of Law, Faculty of Law, University of New South Wales, Australia; and Co-Director, Australasian Legal Information Institute (AustLII)

14.25 Questions & Answers

14.30 Japan's data protection law
(Part 2: Data transfer issues and Japan's views on the APEC Pathfinder Project)
Dr. Hiroshi Miyashita, Director, Office of Personal Information Protection, Cabinet Office, Government of Japan

14.45 Questions & Answers

14.50 Overview of Australia's Privacy Act
Karen Curtis, Privacy Commissioner, Australia

15.20 Questions & Answers

Part 5: Company Experience
Chair: Stewart Dresner, Chief Executive, Privacy Laws & Business

15.30 Sony Group's Global Governance Programme on Data Protection and Information Security
Yoshiyuki Mikami, Senior Security Specialist, CISSP (Certified Information Systems and Security Professional)
Security Management Department, Sony Global Solutions Inc., Japan

16.00 Questions & Answers

16.10 Break

16.30 How Société Générale balances its France-based data protection policy with developing its diverse businesses across the Asia-Pacific region
Nathalie Métallinos, Head of Data Protection, Legal Department, Société Générale, France

17.00 Questions & Answers

Part 6: Regional Developments
Chair: James Michael, Editor, Privacy Laws & Business International Newsletter

17.10 An update on the work of the APEC (Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation between 21 countries in the region) Data Privacy Sub Group
Joan Sheedy, Assistant Secretary, Privacy & Freedom of Information Policy Branch, Cabinet Office, Australia, and Secretariat, the APEC Data Privacy Sub Group

17.25 Questions & Answers

17.30 A civil society perspective on regional developments
➤ A critical view of the privacy process within APEC
➤ Other regional agreements
➤ The OECD Guidelines on privacy and their impact in the region
➤ The Council of Europe Convention 108 on data protection, which is open to Asia-Pacific countries
Professor Graham Greenleaf, Faculty of Law, University of New South Wales, Australia, and Board Member, Australian Privacy Foundation

17.45 Questions & Answers

17.50 Keeping up to date with privacy in the Asia-Pacific Region: What services are needed?
All speakers

18.00 Close