

Planning Ahead to Ensure Compliance with the European Union Data Protection Directive

St. John's College, Cambridge, United Kingdom, 1st – 3rd July, 1997

Programme

Day 1 - Tuesday, July 1st, 1997
Time	Title of Session	Speaker
11.00	The UK Data Protection Act: Key points for newly appointed managers	Caroline Bishop and Charlotte Lewendon , Compliance Officers, Office of the Data Protection Registrar, UK
11.00	The European Union's Data Protection Directive: The essentials	Bojana Bellamy , Consultant, Privacy Laws & Business, UK
13.45	Chairman's welcome and introduction	Stewart Dresner , Director, Privacy Laws & Business, UK
14.30	Struggles to defend privacy: Challenges from 1950 to 2010	Professor Alan F. Westin , Columbia University, New York, and Publisher, Privacy & American Business
16.00	The Data Protection Registrar's first prosecutions under the Data Protection Act's amendments on procuring, selling and advertising personal data	Angus Hamilton , Solicitor and Partner, JP Malnick, Solicitors, London
16.00	Developing standards to protect the privacy of human resources data in North America	Don Harris , Manager, Human Resources Systems, The New York Times Company, New York, USA, and Chair, Privacy Committee, International Assoc. for Human Resources Information Management (IHRIM)
16.45	How BT's Data Protection Manager balances the tension between BT's business needs and compliance with the Data Protection Act	Doug Merritt , Group Data Protection Manager, BT
17.30	Experience in Germany of workers' councils' influence on implementing data protection law: Discussion: Blueprint for implementation of the EU Maastricht Treaty's Social Chapter on employees' rights and incorporation into UK law of the EU Works Council Directive?	Dr. Stefan Walz , Data Protection Commissioner, Bremen, Germany

Day 2 - Wednesday, July 2nd, 1997
Impact of the European Union Data Protection Directive
Time	Title of Session	Speaker
9.00	The future of data protection in Europe	Ulf Brühann , Head of Unit, DG 15, European Commission, Brussels, Belgium
9.30	Report on the European Union's data protection developments under the Netherlands Presidency, January to June 1997	Luc Verhey , Legal Advisor, Netherlands Ministry of Justice
10.00	How Hoechst's internal Data Protection Manager manages compliance with Germany's Data Protection Act	Wulf Donike , Data Protection Manager, Hoechst International Services GmbH, Frankfurt, Germany
11.15	The benefits of Citibank's transborder data flow contract experience in Germany with the	Duncan MacDonald , Group General Counsel, Card Products, Europe and North America, Citibank

	German Railway and the Berlin Data Protection Commissioner: Advantages of constructive dialogue
11.45	The monitoring and coordination role of the EU Data Protection Commissioners' Working Party (DPCWP) in implementing the EU Directive	Ulf Brühann , Head of Unit, DG 15, European Commission, Brussels, and Secretariat, DPCWP Dr. Stefan Walz , Data Protection Commissioner, Bremen, Germany and Member, DPCWP
13.45	New government: New data protection policies?	Graham Sutton , Head of Data Protection Section, The Home Office, UK
14.30	Impact of the European Union Data Protection Directive in the UK	Anne Hinde , Senior Policy Advisor, Office of the Data Protection Registrar, U
Protecting Privacy on The Internet
15.00	Commerce, Communications, and Privacy in Cyberspace: A US survey report	Professor Alan F. Westin , Columbia Univ., New York, and Publisher, Privacy & American Business
16.00	The UK Data Protection Registrar's approach to data protection problems on the Internet	Dr. John Woulds , Director of Operations, Office of the Data Protection Registrar, Wilmslow, UK
16.30	Internet technologies: Applying and complying with data protection principles	Professor Joel Reidenberg , Fordham University Law Faculty, New York, currently Visiting Professor, University of Paris 1, Panthéon-Sorbonne, France
17.00	eTRUST: The Internet industry's self-regulatory approach to building trust in on-line commerce	Susan Scott , Executive Director, eTRUST, Palo Alto, California, USA

Day 3 - Thursday, July 3rd, 1997

Data Security for EU Data Protection Directive Compliance

Time	Title of Session	Speaker
9.00	How the Data Protection Registrar might interpret the EU Data Protection Directive's security provisions, including the requirement to notify details of an organisation's security measures	Dr John Woulds , Director of Operations, Office of the Data Protection Registrar, Wilmslow, UK
9.30	How can controllers comply with the security provisions of the EU Data Protection Directive? Can security standard BS 7799 help?	Chris Amery , Data Security Consultant, Zergo, Basingstoke, UK
10.00	Providing secure systems using risk analysis	Steve Daniels , Principal Consultant, Insight Consulting, Walton-on-Thames, Surrey, UK
10.00	How to comply with the EU Data Protection Directive Using ISO 9000 (BS 5750) Quality Assurance Principles	Dr. Hayden Kendler , Associate Consultant, Privacy Laws & Business
10.00	The OECD Guidelines on Cryptography Policy and their effect on security	Chris Amery , Data Security Consultant, Zergo, Basingstoke, U
The Privacy of Genetic Data
11.00	Genes are Us: Can genetic data remain private data? Why genetic data provides a major challenge to the assumptions behind conventional privacy law	Eugene Oscapella , Barrister and Solicitor, Consultant to the Federal Privacy Commissioner, Canada
11.30	Police and crime	Detective Superintendent Ken Grange , Police Information Technology Organisation, The Home Office, London, UK
12.00	Genetics and Insurance - new information, old	Tony O'Leary , Executive, Marketing and Client

	problems	Services, ERC Frankona Reassurance; Member of the Association of British Insurers' Genetics Committee and Life and Medical Affairs Committee; and Honorary Secretary, Association of Medical Underwriters, London, UK
12.30	Feedback session: Privacy Laws & Business 10th Annual Conference	Stewart Dresner , Director, Privacy Laws & Business
Fair Use of Personal Data by Public and Private Sectors
14.00	How Mytec's biometric encryption and identification system anonymises personal data, curbs fraud, automates authorized access and protects privacy	Dr. George Tomko , Chairman, Mytec Technologies Inc., Ontario, Canada
14.45	How the Registrar interprets the Data Protection Act regarding the fair and lawful collection and use of personal data by public bodies	Phil Jones , Assistant Registrar, Office of the Data Protection Registrar, Wilmslow, U
Applying Data Protection Law Consistently to Crime Data in the Public and Private Sectors
15.45	Data protection law aspects of the latest developments on the National Strategy for Police Information Systems	Detective Superintendent Ken Grange , Police Information Technology Organisation (PITO), Home Office, London, UK
16.30	State surveillance of telecommunications: international harmonisation and an end to privacy?	Michael Spencer , European consultant on civil liberties, UK
16.45	Intelligence-led policing in the retail sector	Detective Chief Inspector Alan Hillman , Marylebone Operational Command Unit, London, UK Stuart Campbell , Security Controller, Selfridges, and Chair, Oxford Street Association Security Committee